Quarterly Sales Review

This review summarises how the quarter went for the sales team. Demand stayed steady through the spring and the new pricing model was rolled out without major problems. Customer feedback was mostly positive, although delivery times remain a concern in some areas. The finance team checked every figure in this report before release. This review summarises how the quarter went for the sales team. Demand stayed steady through the spring and the new pricing model was rolled out without major problems. Customer feedback was mostly positive, although delivery times remain a concern in some areas. The finance team checked every figure in this report before release.

Regional Results

Each region reported its own totals at the end of the quarter. The figures below compare unit sales with revenue for every region that took part in the pilot programme this year. Each region reported its own totals at the end of the quarter. The figures below compare unit sales with revenue for every region that took part in the pilot programme this year.

Region	Units	Revenue
North	120	$4,800
South	95	$3,610
West	143	$5,720

Overall the quarter met its targets. The team will revisit the delivery process before the next review and share an update with everyone involved in the programme. Overall the quarter met its targets. The team will revisit the delivery process before the next review and share an update with everyone involved in the programme.